

UDIT 2022 Preface

The Norwegian conference for education and didactics in IT (UDIT) is a track under the NIKT conference. The UDIT track deals with teaching computer science. Most of the presenters at NIKT are also teachers, and UDIT is meant to facilitate discussion between the staff of all IT departments in Norway on the pedagogical aspect of being a university professor, including teaching, supervision, assessment, etc.

This is the third year that UDIT has its own volume in the conference proceedings, which should be seen as evidence that UDIT is no longer a newcomer, but a well-established part of NIKT. In addition, this is the eighth year that UDIT has been arranged as a separate track at NIKT.

UDIT 2022 received 11 full paper submissions, of which the program committee accepted five for publication and two more for presentation. New this year is that 5-minute lightning talks have replaced the posters. Three lightning talks have been accepted for presentation this year.

We want to thank all those who submitted a paper to UDIT2022. We would also like to give our sincere thanks to the program committee members and the external reviewers who did the essential job of reviewing the submissions. Without authors and reviewers, no conference!

We expect you will enjoy this year's version of NIKT, hosted by the University of Agder!
