UDIT 2021 Preface

Erlend Tøssebro[1] and Yngve Lindsjørn[2]

[1] University of Stavanger
[2] University of Oslo

The Norwegian conference for education and didactics in IT (UDIT) is a track under the NIKT conference. The UDIT track deals with teaching computer science. Most of the presenters at NIKT are also teachers, and UDIT is meant to facilitate discussion between the staff of all IT departments in Norway on the teaching aspect of being a university professor.

This is the second year that UDIT has its own volume in the conference proceedings, which should be seen as evidence that UDIT is no longer a newcomer, but a well-established part of NIKT. In addition, this is the seventh year that UDIT has been arranged as a separate track at NIKT.

UDIT 2021 received 17 full paper submissions, of which the program committee accepted 12. We want to thank all those who submitted a paper to UDIT2021. We would also like to give our sincere thanks to the program committee members who did the essential job of reviewing the submissions. Without authors and reviewers, no conference!

We expect you will enjoy this year's version of NIKT, hosted by the Norwegian University of Science and Technology!

Chair:
Erlend Tøssebro, University of Stavanger

Co-chair:
Yngve Lindsjørn, University of Oslo

UDIT Program Committee 2021

- Erlend Tøssebro, UiS (Chair)
- Yngve Lindsjørn, UiO (Co-chair)
- Salah Uddin Ahmed, USN
- Kirsti Elisabeth Berntsen, NTNU
- Crystal Chang Din, UiB
- Morten Goodwin, UiA
- Ibrahim A. Hameed, NTNU
- Erik Hjelmås, NTNU
- Rune Hjelsvold, NTNU
- Basel Katt, NTNU
- Birgit Krogstie, NTNU
- Per Lauvås, Kristiania UC
- Henrik Hillestad Løvold, UiT og UiO
- Omid Mirmotahari, UiO
- Robin Munkvold, Nord University
- Ragnhild Kobro Runde, UiO
- Grethe Sandstrak, NTNU
- Guttorm Sindre, NTNU
- Girts Strazdins, NTNU
- Ingrid Chieh Yu, UiO
- Marcin Fojcik, HVL
- Laurence Habib, OsloMET
- Kjetil Raaen, Kristiana UC
- Hans Georg Schaathun, NTNU