NIRS example: Tax

- When do you get a national identity number or a D-number?
 - When the Tax Administration is informed by the police, they register you in the National Registry. Once they have done this, they will send you a letter with your D number or your national identity number. It usually takes about two weeks for this letter to arrive by mail.
- Tax deduction card
 - Some people still have to meet with the Tax Administration to get their tax card. You can find information on the Tax Administration's website on how foreign citizens apply for tax cards \(external website\).
- Who must still meet with the Tax Administration to get the D number or the national identity number?
 - If you belong to one of these groups, you must still meet with the Tax Administration:
 - EU/EEA nationals
 - Family members of EU/EEA citizens
 - Seasonal workers
