

SDEurope believes it is of great interest to promote communication between the organization, the participating teams, and the general public, as well as potential partners. This is done through exhibitions, press, media, and web among others.

SDEurope wants to be clear that all content showed at any events of exhibitions related to SDE, as well as at www.sdeurope.org belongs to its authors, in this case the participating teams, which hold the responsibility of its truthfulness, legality, continuity, and updates. For this reason, SDEurope declines any responsibility for the contents of the materials of the participating teams.

By signing this document, team NORWAY NTN4 declares that:

- The video materials submitted for SDEurope Deliverable #2 complies with all legal requirements regarding its exhibition and distribution in exhibitions and other events, as well as at the SDEurope website.
- The team can provide, if necessary, the required documentation that proves its right to use third party material subjective to intellectual property law.
- SDEurope Organizers will not be liable for any legal repercussions derived from the content of the above mentioned video file, during exhibitions and other events, as well as online distribution at www.sdeurope.org
